Bluetooth Keyboard with Telephone Handset for iPad

The iPad is revolutionizing how we interact with technology, view entertainment and connect with our friends and family. It has a great multi-touch tablet system, but don't you miss the feeling and ease of typing on an actual keyboard and making phone calls with an actual telephone handset? Using the Bluetooth® Keyboard for iPad with Telephone Handset from CTA Digital you can bring back this comfort and convenience to your iPad experience. Enclosed in an elegant aluminum case and designed like a laptop this keyboard features a full sized QWERTY layout. The case includes a stand and slot to conveniently place your iPad in either the landscape or portrait style orientation, perfect for your video chat or typing preference. The keyboard connects wirelessly to your iPad via Bluetooth® and can also easily be used with an iPhone or Apple Computer. It has a built-in high capacity rechargeable lithium battery that allows for a long standby time and can be charged simply using the included USB charging cable with your original iPad AC adapter or connected to a computer. A full charge will let you use the keyboard for up to 40 hours! Another great and convenient feature when using this keyboard is it includes a built-in set of quick shortcut keys for many common iPad operations such as the home button, search, lock, photo gallery, cut, copy, paste, brightness, volume and playback controls. When your iPad goes to sleep in power save mode, you can also easily wake it up by pressing any of the keys on the Bluetooth Keyboard. The padded keyboard case also allows you to safely rest your iPad face down over the keyboard when not in use for easy carrying and protection.

The slim and stylish telephone handset rests easily by the keyboard and connects via a 3.5mm audio adapter cable and a spring retractable cord. This radiation free handset is also a safe alternative to holding your cellular device near your head, if you're concerned with limiting how much radio frequency energy you are exposed to. Using the handset with your iPad for Skype and internet phone calls is perfect when you want that nostalgic feeling of using a physical handset or the convenience of being able to pick up the phone and enjoy the privacy of a call in your ear. You can answer and also easily hang up the phone by simply pressing the built-in answer/end button and setting the phone down in its base.

So, whether you need to make a private call or type up a letter with the ease of actual keys, using the Bluetooth Keyboard with Telephone Handset for iPad from CTA Digital you can enjoy the practical convenience and familiarity they bring to enhance your iPad experience.
